The Server
March Schedule

Thanks to all the members who have paid their subscriptions, and a reminder your subscriptions were due for payment in January. We have new ID cards for Noel Leeming so if you want one, please let me know.

The February workshop, which was presented by Hearing NZ, was very interesting for those who have hearing issues but also for members who don't at the moment. They showed us devices you can use and also an app you can put on your devices called Find my Hearing Aid and it will tell you the last place you used it.

Our next workshop on the 6th March, will be about Fraud Awareness, which we all should be aware of as unfortunately we are hearing of more people getting scammed.

March will be a busy month for me as I have a Regional meeting in Rotorua, Federation meeting in Wellington and our AGM on the 27th.

Please, we still need people to assist in the classroom and this is getting urgent, have a look at our website www.hamseniornet.org.nz and there is a section on being a Tutor or an assistant. I am sure that the number of people that we have taught, there must be some one that can assist us. You may have some friends who would like to help for 4hrs a month

Server

In a technical sense, a server is an instance of a computer program or device that accepts and responds to requests made by another program, known as a client. A good metaphor would be a customer (client) ordering a package then the mailman (server) delivering it to them or someone else.

What are they used for?

Servers are used to manage network resources. For example, a user may set up a server to control access to a network, send/receive e-mail, manage print jobs, or host a website. They are also proficient at performing intense calculations. Some servers are committed to a specific task, often referred to as dedicated. However, many servers today are shared servers which can take on the responsibility of e-mail, DNS, FTP, and even multiple websites in the case of a web server.

Why are servers always on?

Because they are commonly used to deliver services that are constantly required, most servers are never turned off. Consequently, when servers fail, they can cause the network users and company many problems. To alleviate these issues, servers are commonly set up to be fault tolerant.

Examples of servers

Web Server

Mail server

Application Server

Microsoft Windows 10

Cloud Server

Print Server

Database Server
